

Living Wild and Local

An Evening of Native Food and Art

Saturday
October 24, 2009
4:00 - 6:30 p.m.

Please join the Yuba Watershed Institute in a special event to recognize the wild food and art of this place.

Discover

Experience the beauty of functional wild art through demonstrations, exhibits, and sales by local artisans:

- * Sustainably handcrafted chairs by Bob Erickson
- * Pottery made from native clays by Dick Hotchkiss
- * Manzanita tables by David Niedziejko
- * Baskets woven from Ceanothus, Cattail, and Pine Needle
- * Wood sculptures for the table by Holly Tornheim
- * Traditional Maidu crafts by Grayson Coney

Enjoy

Taste appetizers and desserts developed with native plants by the finest chefs in Nevada County and nominate your favorite recipe for the "Wild Chef Award." Sip healthy homebrewed beer and wine made from wild plants.

Support

Ticket proceeds support the educational activities of the Yuba Watershed Institute and the Tsi-Akim Maidu.

Event hosted at the Funk Family's solar-powered, natural home on the Yuba River. Space is limited, so reserve tickets early.

info@yubawatershedinstitute.org or 530-265-4459

$40 general admission and $35 Yuba Watershed Institute and Tsi-Akim Maidu Tribal Members.

